RESIDENCE HALL & DINING SERVICES APPLICATION

Iowa Wesleyan COLLEGE

Residency Requirement

Iowa Wesleyan College believes in the educational and developmental value of the residential experience. To this end, all full time unmarried students who do not live with their parents at their primary residence within thirty miles of campus are required to live in College residential facilities. Exceptions to this rule may be made for students 23 years of age and older on the first day of classes in August, students living with dependent children and military veterans with at least two years of active military service.

Exemption to the residency requirement is not automatic. Requests for exemption should be submitted to the Office of Student Life.

Parent(s)/guardian(s) of the student requesting an exemption must certify that their student meets one of the above exemptions and is, therefore, eligible to reside off-campus. If the College discovers that the student is residing off-campus but does not meet one of the above exemptions, the College reserves the right to bill for room and board. Students living off-campus without exemption are also subject to disciplinary action.

Students who live off-campus typically have a reduction in their financial aid of about 25%. Before making a decision to live off-campus, students should talk with the Director of Financial Aid to determine how it could impact their aid package.

Residency Class Credit Requirement
While College housing is normally restricted to full-time students, part-time students may request permission to live in College housing on a case-by-case basis.

Residency Age Limit
Students age 23 and older are typically not allowed to reside in campus housing. Students over 23 who wish to reside on campus must request permission by contacting the Office of Student Life.

International Student Residency Requirement
The experience of spending a semester or more in the United States is significantly enhanced by a full immersion in the campus experience. Therefore, it is IWC policy that all international students will live in our residence halls, where they will interact with American students and participate in many college activities, exposing them to the breadth of American culture and life. International students will be expected to live in the residence halls for their entire enrollment at IWC.
